Population	About 450,000
Official Language	Hebrew
Characteristics	Tel-Aviv - "The "Nonstop city", "The City that Never Sleeps", "The Mediterranean Capital of Cool" - is the second most populous city in Israel, located on the country's Mediterranean coastline. Tel Aviv is a pluralistic, liberal city, combining sandy Mediterranean beaches with a world-class nightlife, a buzzing cultural scene, incredible food, UNESCO recognized architecture, and an international outlook. Tel-Aviv has an excellent public transport system, but is also a bicycle –town, where you can easily get around by bike.
